MINING AND THE SDGs IN AUSTRALIA

2

Exploring how mining in Australia can advance Australia's commitment to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

The Development Partner Institute for Mining recognises how closely the mining industry is connected to economic, societal and environment development, and the impact the entire mining value chain has on the race to meet the Sustainable Development Goals .

WHAT ABOUT THE SDGS IN POST-COVID AUSTRALIA?

Priorities and perceptions have been impacted by the Covid-19 pandemic. DPI Mining is currently undertaking an Initiative check-in with participants from the 'Mining and the SDGs' 2019 roundtable to help us continue to shape our activities and initiatives.

WHO'S PARTICIPATING?

Mining companies, NGOs, Aboriginal communities and representatives, and civil society, government, industry organisations, business.
