

FUNDING THE FUTURE OF MINING

A CALL TO JOIN OUR COALITION

INSTITUTE

WE KNOW THE COMPLEX CHALLENGES AND RISKS THAT MINING FACES

- ✓ Deeper mines, lower ore grades, challenges accessing quality resources
- ✓ An increasingly complex and changing investment environment
- ✓ A clash between demand for resources to support future needs, and the ability to respond
- ✓ Responsible sourcing pressure from customer facing companies
- ✓ Increasing ESG requirements
- ✓ Climate change and the need to decarbonize, with increasing focus on Scope 3 emissions
- ✓ Communities and indigenous people who are not welcoming to mining, despite 30 years of sustainability work
- ✓ The need to attract young and emerging talent

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

There is a need for a neutral, safe space to hold brave and difficult conversations between mining stakeholders

Does a space like this currently exist for you?

The criticism of all of our [mining] organizations, rightly or wrongly, is that we tend to talk to ourselves. Whilst I think that's a bit tough, a bit unfair... it's probably right to a fair degree.

THE ANSWER IS DPI

We are a young, globally diverse non-profit organization, created to address these challenges!

We do things differently by bringing together stakeholders from the entire mining ecosystem to bring about meaningful change through our pilots and initiatives.

- ✓ Neutrality
- ✓ Experimentation
- ✓ Piloting
- ✓ Innovation
- ✓ Creative solution
- ✓ New pathways
- ✓ Catalyzing
- ✓ Being independent
- ✓ Incubating and turbo-charging ideas
- ✓ Being brave and plucky

DPI is looking for like-minded thought leaders to join us.

- ✓ Collaborate with us to co-design solutions that will tackle some of our sector's toughest sustainability challenges.

- ✓ Promote a sector that puts global development at its centre.

- ✓ We urge you to be an early adopter of this new way of thinking.
